ABOUT

The 22: Korean War International Legacy is a global community of Korean War veterans, their family members, scholars, historians, and educators intent on honoring veterans from the 22 countries that took part in the forgotten victory of the Korean War. As heirs of their legacy, our goal is to preserve and share their stories, educate the public about the War, and come together to recognize the importance of the Korean War in our contemporary history as well as the legacy of the Korean War: South Korea's robust economy and democracy. Join us. Share educational resources about the War, explore the memories of the people who served, and create a profile to honor a veteran who's close to you.
